C. Francis Barnard, M. D.
SURGEON DENTIST.

DR. BARNARD HAS HAD FOR several months the "Perkins Hyatt" or "Celluloid Base," the newest and latest material adapted to the mounting of whole sets of teeth; he is also using "Whalebone-Rubber," which is rapidly supplanting, for single dentures or partial sets the best vulcanites of the last 25 years.
We cheerfully add Dr. B's card to our columns, convinced that his good taste and judgment, united to natural skill and ingenuity, aided by an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, render his services more valuable and reliable than those of any other Dentirt on the Sound, Coast or Island.
Dr B's large experience may be readily seen in the happy and natural expression given his patrons by his life-like insertion of artificial Teeth.
The public may rest assured of patience, gentleness and undivided attention while under the Dr's hands, and that he will ever strive to be foremost in adopting helps and hints touching his own interest and that of his patrons.

Card of Thanks to Dr. Chong.
AFTER BEING TREATED FIVE MONTHS by a white doctor, and spending nearly $300, I was worse than when I first went to him. I had quite despaired of being relieved when I read Dr. Chong's Card in THE COLONIST. I placed myself under his care and in NINE DAYS I was a well man. I write this card to discharge a debt of gratitude I owe to Dr Chong whose charges, I may also say, were reasonable. My complaint was neuralgia. WILLIAM McCORMICK.

An Emphatic Verdict.

There is no necessity to await full returns in order to announce the definite result of the Yale-Kootenay election. Thirty to four is altogether too big odds to be overtaken in the polling divisions remaining to be heard from; and it is, indeed, questionable whether full returns will tend to an approximation of numbers. It would be difficult to conceive of a more emphatic verdict than that just pronounced against the dual principle by the electors of the Yale-Kootenay District. If the one fact of being, practically at all events, a dualist be kept out of view, the defeated candidate presented himself before the electors under circumstances eminently auspicious. An old resident in the District; one who had in times past taken an active part in most of the political movements,—always found on the side of reform and progress, he had been returned at the head of the poll in a spirited contest to represent the Yale District in the Local Legislature, in which capacity he had been exceptionally successful in fulfilling the expectations of his constituents. And yet, in running against a candidate who was scarcely known as a politician and who could not be presumed to possess any special claim to the suffrages of the electors, and who, moreover, instead of canvassing the District, was occupied at his profession away amongst the foothills of the Rocky Mountains, he only polled four votes to his opponent's thirty, and that too, in the part of the Distrlet where he was best known and most liked. The principle of dual representation was, therefore, put on trial under the most favorable circumstances that could well be conceived,—circumstances in some respects calculated to arouse the sympathies of the jurors in its favor. And yet thirty to four render a verdict of "guilty" —guilty of conspiring against the commonwealth, and that without any recommendation to mercy! What could possibly constitute a more emphatic condemnation of the principle of dual representation? What could constitute a more signal and complete triumph for the principles we have so persistently advocated—have stood almost alone in advocating? Nor could it well be otherwise. It was rather too much to expect an intelligent constituency to elect one man to represent their interests in two Houses three thousand miles apart, only one of which it would be possible to attend. It was too much like presuming upon their ignorance or imposing upon their good nature to ask them to do anything so very absurd. The practical result of the contest is this: It will be a bold man who will seek another verdict. Mr. Smith has been most emphatically told that his constituents desire him to remain where he is, in the Local Legislature,—where, after all, the most important work is to be done. Probably few persons will now be disposed to doubt that intelligent public opinion in British Columbia is against dual representation. The Yale-Kootenay District is not the only one that has spoken out upon the subject. Cariboo spoke last year, by placing Mr. Thompson fourth on the poll-book; not because he was wanting in popularity, but, on the contrary, because it had resolved to send him to Ottawa. Vancouver spoke out this year; and even Mr. Buuster's popularity in the District did not save him from the inevitable necessity of resigning his local seat. Victoria spoke; although her utterances were less emphatic. This appears to be the only constituency that likes to see its franchise become a plaything in the hands of over-ambitious politicians,—her interests sacrificed on the altar of personal agrandisement.

Across the Continent.

The arrival at Kamloops of Mr. Sandford Fleming and party in fifty-six days from Fort Garry is a circumstance suggestive of progressive and impending change. We are told that the party averaged forty miles a day during the entire journey. For a party traveling with pack animals and camp equipage, through a country innocent of roads or even trails, this is an achievement indicative not only of great energy and push, but of a country presenting extraordinary natural facilities. Forty miles a day for fifty-six days gives two thousand, two hundred and forty miles as the distance between Fort Garry and Kamloops. Of course the actual distance as the crow flies is very much less. To Mr. Fleming is due the distinction of having accomplished the journey in a less period of time than it was ever accomplished before. But the circumstance is chiefly important as the forerunner of a new era about to dawn, when the same distance shall be traveled in fifty-six hours, instead of that number of days. It is not too much to say that in six years from the present time the continent will be crossed even from Halifax to Victoria at an average rate of speed of forty miles an hour. It is, therefore, to the fact that Mr. Fleming may be regarded as the harbinger of the new era that this achievement owes its chief interest. As near'y as the telegraph has enabled us to judge, the party consists of Mr. Sandford Fleming, Chief Engineer of the Canada Pacific Railway; his son, F. Fleming; the Rev. Dr. Grant, Minister of St. Matthew's Presbyterian Church, Halifax; Dr. Moren; Mr. Macour; and Mr. Horetzky, C. E.

We wonder what induces David Green, the Clothier, of Government street, to advertise, as everyone is aware that he keeps the best fashionable made clothing store north of San Francisco. ***

Along the Sound.

Editor Colonist.—With your permission I continue my tale of travel and adventure. We are off at last, bound for Madison. I had now time to notice particularly at supper the lady passengers—our fair American cousins, who that could would not claim the relationship? They (our cousins) dress far more simply than our Victoria belles; and, dare I say it? look more natural,—more like women than lay figures.

MADISON.

is owned by Mieggs. Lucky Meiggs. The lumber trade is very Aladdin's lamp to him. He is daily—hourly amassing wealth. A passenger speaking of him remarked, "if you saw Meiggs you'd think he had not a dollar to his name or a red in his pocket." A wharf of considerable frontage with good sheds, steam sawmills, store hotel and a few houses make up this station. No whiskey is sold here, the proprietor disallowing the sale of intoxicating drinks on the premises. Again off, this time for where we arrive at 7 p. m. Our whistle is answered by a crowd, a flourish of lanterns and vociferous invitations from hotel runners to passengers who are perfectly bewildered by a description of the resources, comforts, luxuries and general bliss without end to be enjoyed at their respective establishments. At the back of the crowd are hotel busses to give you 'a free lift' to their quarters. This is the only place on the Sound where this peculiar attention is shown the traveling public. I landed, having some business with the Intelligencer, a leading organ of public opinion hereabouts. I could see through the fog extensive piers on my right hugging in their gigantic arms steamboats of all sizes. As I proceeded I began treading on what seemed neither sand nor earth, but some extensive pulu mattress. This turned out to be saw-dust with which the streets are here macademized. I will not further detain the reader "on the sights and sounds" of Seattle "by night" nor on what I saw in the sanctum of its thunderer the Intelligencer, all wonderful to relate, time permitting; but I will on and aboard for

OLYMPIA,

"the beautiful" capital of this rapidly-progressing Territory. The interesting way ports, Free Port, Steilacoom and Tacoma were only touched at as I learn't by the steamer's diabolical whistle. But at these times, while endeavoring to court sleep, I missed these monuments of American enterprise—witnesses to the successful rule of the Great Republic, even in this distant quarter of her vast domain. I awoke next morning to find the steamer stuck in the mud looking disconsolately at the end of a pier about 2000 ft. away. This is a trick of the tide which here falls some 20 feet, no doubt highly encouraging to dry dock speculators, but very discouraging to impatient travelers. That pier end is the beginning of Olympia, and to reach it my efforts were now directed. I joined some of my fellow passengers in hailing a canoe, by whose help we reached the coveted pier. But lo and behold! a terrible alternative here stares us in the face—no water! not enough even to float our frail bark as far as the pier-steps. We must needs either climb the piles over mussels and starfish innumerable, or, divesting ourselves of our nether garments, wade through the mud to dry land. This latter manner would indeed have been an impressive way of effecting our entry into Olympia. "These people," (Olympians), explained a Seattle man, "settled on this mud flat before the Deluge; they deny it; never heard of it. Commenced this pier soon after the confusion at Babel: warn't there; don't believe in it; fell to sleep for the balance of time and ain't woke up yet to finish their d——d landing place." Fortunately, however, and by good luck, by the grace of sliding and the will of the mud, to the great inconvenience and serious injury of the mussels on the piles and the starfish innumerable, with sundry jerks and jars and many scrapings and grazings, we at last forced our way to the bottom step. We ascend, we gain a view of the full sweep of the pier; the street beyond, with trees on either side; shaded sidewalks in straight lines. Houses loom up and public buildings, flagstaffs define themselves; and spires, pointing to heaven, all in straight lines or at right-angles. The rectangular, rectilinear spirit here breathes everywhere in the outlines. As we proceed we realize the fact that we are in Main street, as its name implies, the principal thoroughfare of this territorial capital. Shaded by handsome trees, stately like a park avenue, Main street does not impress one with its business character or capacity; and yet here is transacted all the business of Olympia, here is focussed the civil administration of a great territory. "Business and trees don't harness-up good," said one. "They hide the signboards and stifle trade," said another.

The Tacoma House is the first hotel one reaches on leaving the pier. It is well placed, handy to the landing, and in the goodly company of the leading public resorts. In here I went to get breakfast. But pause, you uninitiated! Before you can eat or drink, or sleep or think, or obtain a recognized ex'stence in a Sound hotel, (and it is SOUND custom,) you must pass through a preliminary initiation—a formality to which a British Columbian is an entire stranger. A big book is opened before you in which you are requested to inscribe your name and address, and anything else you wish by which your identity may be distinguished and preserved. This is a sound way and a good custom. Many a poor fellow who has been lost in British Columbia it is impossible to trace to his end, or to account for in any way satisfactorily, thro' want of some such a system in our hotels; and, then, it would save one the necessity of writing one's name on a card, and sticking it in one's hat,—a plan that will soon have to be adopted with the advance of progress. All this is very well in case of death, etc.. etc., but before breakfast.... ! Well, having immortalized the register with my autograph, I straightway was admitted to participate in the mysteries of the refreshment room.

How pleasant it is to be waited upon by women! This "happy thought" was suggested to me by one here, fresh and pretty in her neat calico dress, noiselessly serving the guests. I could not but institute a comparison, odious tho' it be to do such things, between her as she glided along and the men-waiters I have seen elsewhere shouting orders, ("two steaks and four teas, one coffee and three chops, etc.,") rattling dishes, stamping along, occasionally smashing cups and saucers, and compelling one to eat in a constant uproar.

Saanich Agricultural Show.

The annual exhibition of the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society was held yesterday at Mr. Wm. Thompson's farm, South Saanich. Considering the recent unfavorable weather the entries of competitors for the Society's liberal list of premiums were numerous and creditable to the producers.

The arrangements of the Committee afforded general satisfaction, and the active exertions of Mr. Thompson, President, Mr. J. T. McIlmoyl, Secretary of the Society, and of the Committee to insure the success of the Show are beyond all praise. From 300 to 400 visitors (including a large number of the fair sex) attended the Exhibition. Amongst our city friends we noticed A. DeCosmos, M. P., A. Bunster, M.P.P., Dr. Davie, and Messrs W. Robertson, D. Green, Sandover, Gosnell, Rueff, Dalby and others.

The following are the names of the successful exhibitors:

The Committee adhered strictly to their published programme and anything enumerated in it which may not be mentioned above was not on exhibition. This was a matter of regret, particularly as to hops, for the growth of which Saanich has now become famous; but the damp weather was the cause of it.

Our special reporter feels it necessary to protest against the bad state of the roads, east and west. On the latter a huge pine log closes traffic for about two miles on the country side of the Halfway House, causing quite an adventure in the woods in going round. On the journey home our reporter was benighted in the woods, rain pouring, lightning flashing, all being otherwise black as Walpurgis night, and only the steady nerve and surprising instinct and skill of Mr. James Wallace, who knows the road well, could have brought the stage through.

THE varieties of wood produced in different parts of the world are far more numerous than most people are aware of. At the Paris Exposition of 1867 there were from forty-five different countries no less than 2769 different kinds of wood exhibited, 395 coming from Europe, 252 from Africa, 858 from Asia, 966 from Oceanica, and 1298 from America.

THE rain of the last few days has caused that part of Government and Store streets, which was opened up to allow the construction of the culverts, to sink so much that the Street Committee deemed it advisable last evening to rail it round and hang lights on it until such time as the cavities can be filled up.

WILL CLOSE.—We are requested to state that the mail per steamer Enterprise will close in future at 8:30 a. m., on account of the steamer having commenced her winter trips, leaving this port at 9 a.m.

BUNSTER'S ALE.—To Mr. Bunster was awarded the prize for the best barrel of ale at the Saanich Agricultural Show yesterday.

THERE was a clean sheet at the Police Court yesterday.

Arrival of Railway Magnates.

The steamer North Pacific, Capt. Starr, arrived yesterday afternoon from Olympia via Ports Madison and Gamble. She brought the undermentioned Directors in the Northern Pacific Railway Company, who are on a tour of observation around the Sound with a view to establishing the long-sought but not-yet-found Western stable for the iron horse. En route they visit Victoria as the Terminus of the Canadian Pacific Railroad. Gen. Cass is the President of the Northern Pacific Railway Company. Mr. Ogden is the richest man in the Western States—the value of his possessions being estimated at $24,000,000. Last year he lost $4,000,000 by the Chicago and Wisconsin fires, but the loss was not felt more than a flea-bite. He could buy Victoria and have a few millions to spare for other operations. Mr. Windom is U. S. Senator from Minnesota. Mr. Roberts is Chief Engineer of the road. Collectively the party represent about $100,000,000 — being about the welthiest men on the Continent. They are as follows: — Gen. John W. Sprague, Gen. Geo. W. Cass, Hon. Wm. G. Ogden, Hon. Charles B. Wright, Hon. Frederick Billings, Hon. Jas. Stimpson, Hon. Thomas H. Canfield, Hon. Wm. Windom and son, Samuel Wilkerson, W. Milnor Roberts, William A. Howard, Gov. John A. Goodwin, Captain J. C. Ainsworth, Dr. Thayer, and Messrs. Samuel Wilkerson, jr., Thomas B. Morris, Wm. S. King, and wife, James H. Stamp, ank L. M. Starr. The party remained until 12 o'clock last night when the North Pacific sailed again for Puget Sound ports.

THE "COLONIST'S" SPECIAL DISPATCHES.

Eastern States.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The murder of Professor Panarino, the teacher of music at Brooklyn, in the public street of that city, last January, will be remembered. A man named Higgins turned informer; and according to his story the crime was committed by four men, an Englishman named Kane alias Cockney, and three others, S. Cassidy, Scotty and O'Brien, of New York. Disappointed by an intended burglary, they resolved not to return empty handed, and seeing Panarino approaching one said, "let's go for this man coming up and see what he has got about him;" one grabbed him by the collar and said in a rough voice "what have you got about you? come, hurry up," at the same time shaking him. Panarino, as soon as he felt himself grasped, attempted to cry out for help. One of the four men pulled a pistol and struck him on the neck with the muzzle, saying "damn your dirty soul, if you yell again I'll blow your brains out." Feeling the muzzle at his neck, Panarino stopped, and the third man proceeded to go through him for his watch, when the man with the pistol thinking Panarino would not dare cry out, replaced the pistol in his pocket. Seeing the pistol disappear, Panarino again cried for help, and that cry cost him his life, for with a terrible oath O'Brien struck him on the temple with a club and as the unfortunate victim was reeling backwards from the effect of blow he was again struck. This blow was one which made the terrible wound which was so fully described at the time. Only two blows were struck, and the man who was robbing him of his watch grabbed it and seeing him felled and bleeding, they all four ran off and reached New York in different directions.

WASHINTON, Sept. 30.—Gen. Sherman had a long conference to-day. After furnishing many points of interest regarding his European tour, he entered upon a full description of the Indian situation. The President said that notwithstanding hostile demonstrations of certain tribes, there would be no Indian war. Gen. Sherman and many of the army officers were of opinion that a war cannot be avoided, especially in Arizona and Dakotah.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Patrick Terry recently discharged from the Insane Asylum, had a recurrence of insanity this morning and attacked and horribly mutilated his wife and daughter with a meat saw. Both will probably die.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—Reports from Lake ports show that the storm of Saturday night and Sunday was very severe. Much damage done to shipping. So far no loss of life reported.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—It is stated that Alderman Hallekan and ex-Auditor O'Brien of 8th Ward, Brooklyn, fled last night on account of publication of affidavits that they had stuffed the ballot boxes of that Ward last election, then perjured themselves.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Stamp duties upon all documents except Bank checks, drafts or orders expire to-day in accordance with recent Act of Congress, hereafter no stamps are required on any legal document whatever, no paper being subject to stamp duty with the exception of the above mentioned; no stamp is required on foreign bills of exchange.

DETROIT, Sept. 30.—Fourteen vessels were reported yesterday sunk or beached on Lake Erie during the storm of Saturday night. So far only one life reported lost.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 30.—Indian Delegates left for Washington in charge of Sup't Alvord. Santa Anna and Big Tree are placed in custody, and committed to jail to await further orders.

TITUSVILLE, Sept. 30.—The oil regions are intensely excited over the movement to suspend production. The movement is almost universal and probably not over 50 wells are producing. To-night in some places violence is reported. The well at Right's was burned and the engines destroyed by steam hammer, and tanks tapped. Some wells are still holding out against it, but it is thought they will yield yet. The effect of the movement is felt in the advanced prices.

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—The verdict in the Fair case was received here with general surprise and indignation. The "Tribune" comments on the case from a supposititious standpoint, that the plea of insanity was used to secure acquittal.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Tweed's son Richard denies the rumor that his father has fled the city. Tweed was absent yesterday, however, and he expects to return today.

Europe.

MADRID, Sept. 30.—Gen. Espanel has resigned his seat in the Senate. It is reported that the Government has resolved to submit to other European powers the quetion of the justice of its claims against the U. S. for damages by Cuban filibusters.

PARIS, Sept. 30.—Republicans of Algiers nominated Victor Hugo for the Assembly.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—The "Times" confirms the report of the resignation of the Lord Chancellor.

There was a meeting of railway servants at Hyde Park yesterday afternoon to take into consideration measures for furthering the movement for the emigration of a large number of this class of people to Canada and U.S.

Ship Nassiere was wrecked off Timberly, Lancashire, during the heavy gales of last week. All on board were drowned. Other disasters reported.

PARIS, Sept. 30.—The Government condemns Gambetta's conduct in addressing the people in the Provinces. His speeches are considered indelicate and ill-timed, and they needlessly agitate the country.

ROME, Sept. 30.—The Pope to-day went out beyond the precincts of the Vatican for the first time since the occupation of Rome and proceeded to Porto Dellia and Suina.

California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—Contrary to all expectations, the jury in the Fair case to-day returned a verdict. At nine o'clock the Court met and the jury called in, and upon being asked if they had made a verdict, the foreman answered they had. It was then handed to the clerk and amidst the silence of the grave the verdict of not guilty was read. The verdict was received with astonishment, but no signs of approval or dissent were manifested. The jury was polled and discharged and immediately after the prisoner was discharged from custody and left the Court in company with her friends and counsel. Mrs. Fair appeared to be greatly excited. Much indignation is manifested at the verdict.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—Later—A crowd surrounds the bulletin boards discussing the Fair verdict which is now the only excitng topic. Opinions as to the merit of the verdict are different, but Curtis is greatly praised for his management of the case.

The National Flouring Mills suspended, liabilities unknown. Flour and wheat unchanged; the same for all staple products.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—As usual the press denounces the verdict of the jury in the Fair case, but give no reasons to prove that the twelve men perjured themselves. In reference to the trial the "Alta" this morning says the following is true: Three minutes after the jury retired to the room. On the first ballot the results were 10 for acquittal and 2 for murder in the 1st degree, the latter being Byington and McGee. No change took place until 8 o'clock on Sunday morning, when Byington and McGee succumbed and agreed to an acquittal. Word was sent to Judge Reardon, but as the counsel could not be found they were kept together for the night. The only reason assigned by the majority of the jury from the first was they had a doubt in their minds and would never consent to render a verdict but for acquittal. Foreman Byington held out longer and discussed the question of insanity with his fellows, endeavoring to convince them that the defence had not by preponderance of evidence established this theory. He failed to make any impression on any of them and having fought for nearly forty hours came to the conclusion that the combined judgment of 10 colleagues might be superior to his and that his conclusion might possibly be wrong. He declared that if he erred he would do so on this side of the grave. He was the first to sign the verdict of not guilty without taking a final ballot.

During the year past the tax collector of this city paid into the treasury over $2,800,000.

The Versailles Autocrat.

New York, September 8—Paris letters affirm that M. Thiers wishes it distinctly understood that he is master in France. He has resolutely refused all petitions to reconsider his sentence of expulsion from France against the two brothers Errazu, who insulted him at Franville by cries of Vivel' Empereur. Their families also must depart from France. The two brothers in question are aged eighteen and twenty-one, and their families therefore mean their mothers and sisters and cousins. The Errazu are Mexicans of enormous wealth, and chief owners of a silver mine. For thirty years the family has resided in Paris. During the empire the revenues of the family were expended with princely munificence, and few ladies have given so much in charity as Mme Errazu. She had one thousand poor upon her charity list. She founded a hospital, and her name was seen at the head of every charitable subscription against a very large figure. M. Thiers has the right to order the Errazus from France, they being foreigners, and he is inexorable that all must go at the end of the few days allowed to put their affairs in order.

British Manufacturers.

The high price of English coals, and the consequent increase in the expense of steam power—130 per cent, over that of ten years ago—has turned the attention of British manufacturers to the abundant water supply of the United Kingdom as a cheap means for keeping their factories in operation. The West Riding of York and East Lancashire, manufacturing centres, have this means close at hand; but Ireland, according to recent exploration, is destined to furnish the great permanent relief from threatened difficulty, having, it is claimed, more than one hundred and twenty-five thousand horse power of water planes. The Erie River from Belleck to Ballyshannon, decends one hundred and forty feet in four miles. The Bunduff, Dromahair, Sligo, Colloney, Ballysodare, Masky and Moy rivers have a descent equal to fifty thousand horse power; Galway, with its lakes, six thousand; Limerick, with the Shannon between it and Killaloe, thirty-two thousand; the Bann, ten thousand; while the Lee, Foyle, Boyne, Blackwater, Slaney, Suir, Nore and other rivers offer great manufacturing facilities. Water power in Ireland, it is asserted, would cost but one-tenth that of steam, at the present price of coal.

PRINCESS LOUISE, Marchioness of Lorne, is to assist in founding a school for girls which is to be a model institution. It is not, like the national schools, to give a limited common school education, but will furnish a really liberal education, at a cost of not more than $42 per year. The school will be divided into three departments, preparatory, junior and senior, and a normal school will be attached to the institution for the preparation of young ladies as teachers.

Worcestershire Sauce.

and to see that their names are upon the wrapper, label stopper and bottle.

Some of the foreign markets having been supplied with a spurious Worcestershire sauce, upon the wrapper and labels of which the name of Lea & Perrins have been forged, L. and P. give notice that they have furnished their correspondents with power of attorney to take instant proceedings against Manufacturers and Vendors of such, or any other imitations by which their right may be infringed.

Ask for LEA & PERRINS' Sauce, and see Name on Wrapper, Label, Bottle and Stopper.
